Descrizione :

With the artificial Kentia palm you will give your premises a fresh atmosphere without costly maintenance.

As a green splash of color, the palm radiates a powerful calm and serenity, especially in the office or home office. In addition, unlike its natural role model, it does not resent a low-light location.

The high quality artificial trunk is decorated with real palm fiber material between individual sections of the trunk to achieve the most natural appearance. The flexible palm fronds with leaves made of textile fiber material only need to be inserted into fixtures of different heights when assembling the artificial plant.

The palm tree is already delivered in a plain gardener's pot and reaches a total height of approx. 240 cm from the pot to the palm frond tips.
