Descrizione :

The original plant, also known as houseleek, is usually found as part of a rock garden planting, roof planting or in wall joints of terraces and stone walls.

However, the artificial stone rose of Europalms is not only suitable for outdoor use, but is also an ideal design element for your living and business premises. Whether as part of an arrangement, on shelves or window sills - realize your decoration ideas!

The material EVA (ethylene vinyl acetate) provides you with a product with a deceptive look, pleasant haptics and high resistance to aging. This is particularly evident in the natural color gradient of the soft-touch sheets. They form the typical, fleshy thickened leaf rosette from which 2 flower stems with star-shaped yellow flowers protrude.

The artificial plant has a total height of approx. 32 cm and is delivered without attachment.

Therefore it can be used quickly and according to individual requirements.
