Descrizione :

As Christmas star, Advent star, Poinsettia or under its botanical name Euphoria pulcherrima - the poinsettia is known by many names. No matter under which name, one thing is certain: it is omnipresent in the pre-Christmas season. Whether as a small version for table and counter decoration in bistros and restaurants or as a large showpiece on boiling boards and windowsills. The original plant grows as a shrub and is originally native to Central America and Mexico. This explains why this attractive winter bloomer is very demanding in terms of location and care. The artificial poinsettia bush from Europalms is an optimal, low-maintenance alternative here. Typical features, such as rosette-shaped, colored bracts with small, green nodules in the center of the poinsettia, have been implemented true to nature. Three stands of cream-colored bracts overtop the rich leafy green on this artificial plant. Both leaf green and bracts are made of textile fibers.

A practical plastic insertion rod allows for quick decorating.
